NATIONAL ELECTION BILL

Takes Up the Entire Time of the House While the Senate Passes a Number of Bills—Territorial Admission Discussed By a Number of Senators.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The house yesterday passed the following bills: House bill, with senate amendments, authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Mississippi river at Winona, Minn.; house bill granting fifteen days' leave to clerks in the first and second class postoffices; granting certain lots to school district No. 7 in the township of Dearborn, Wayne county, Michigan, for school purposes; to construct a bridge across the Mississippi river at Hastings, Mich.

Debate was then begun on the National election bill.

Mr. Lodge said the subject was grave, and demanded serious and deliberative treatment. He had no personalities or reflections to make, but desired to treat the question dispassionately. The proposed bill extended the laws regarding the election of members so that they would be effective throughout the United States whenever the people wanted them so extended. He said that no local machinery was to be disturbed, and that ballots were to be cast as at present, and no secret ballot system was to be interfered with where it now prevailed. Everything that concerned the government should be open. Under the terms of the bill, concealment became impossible without a resort to violence, and violence itself was publicity. The power of congress to enact such legislation was conclusive. The acts which it was proposed to extend had been called into existence by the gigantic frauds in the city of New York prior to 1870 and 1871.

In conclusion Mr. Lodge said: "Let us do our duty to every American citizen, rich or poor, black or white, weak or strong, and we can safely abide by the result. Let us secure to every man the liberty and freedom which is the cornerstone of American liberty."

Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, made an argument to prove the bill unconstitutional, reading from legislative declarations by New York, Ohio and New Jersey, against congressional usurpation of the right to conduct elections. The bill, he said, was sectional because it provided that some portions of the United States should be under the supervision of two to five supervisors, according to the respective size of congressional and judicial districts. Again he thought the provision for putting the law into effect by petition, was sectional.

Mr. Rowell, of Illinois, said the bill was only an enlargement of a law upon the statute books since 1871. It was the conviction that every man's ballot counted one at the polls that made this a government of people. He thought there was no question of power of congress to enact this law or of the necessity of using that power.

Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Rowell had a dispute over the circumstances of the former's election during which Mr. McRae, of Arkansas, admitted that armed men rode about the polling places in that state in Powell Clayton's time, but said there had been better times since.

Mr. Lebach, of New Jersey, opposed the bill on the ground that, while frauds occurred in many districts it would be wiser to let the people of the several states regulate their own elections. He thought the law if enacted should be uniformly applicable and not dependent upon the petition of any number of citizens.

Mr. Tucker, of Virginia, opposed the bill on constitutional grounds. Under it, he said, the supervisors were to determine the qualifications of voters—a right reserved to the states. He said congress should take charge of elections absolutely or leave them entirely to the states. The only way to correct fraud was by an enlightened public sentiment which would frown it down.

The house, at 5:25, adjourned.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The resolution offered Wednesday by Mr. Cullom in the senate, directing the secretary of the senate to prepare a table showing the number of bills introduced by each senator and the number of them passed, was taken up, and on motion of Mr. Edmunds read on the table.

The house bill for the admission of Wyoming as a state was taken up and Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, addressed the senate. He declared himself in favor of the admission of Wyoming and all the other territories except Utah, when they had sufficient population and sufficient wealth to justify their assumption of state governments. But he was unwilling to see Wyoming admitted in the way now proposed; and he proceeded to state the reasons why, in his opinion, the passage of the pending bill would be exceedingly unwise. In conclusion Mr. Jones declared himself in favor of an enabling act for all the territories except Utah, and of admitting them as states after they had complied with the provisions of the act, and he moved as a substitute for the pending bill one for such an enabling act.

Mr. Platt replying to an assertion by Mr. Jones that the reason for excluding New Mexico from admission as a state was that it was expected it would send two Democrats to the senate, denied that he had been actuated by any such idea. He said that on the contrary, leading Republicans of New Mexico had been urging its admission, and had been assuring him that it would send two Republicans to the senate.

Mr. Stewart replied to Mr. Jones, and said that it would be time enough to act in the cases of New Mexico and Arizona when they would come before the senate.

Mr. Reagan opposed the bill, alleging, among his reasons for doing so, the provision for woman's suffrage contained in the Wyoming constitution. At the close of Mr. Reagan's speech it was found to be impossible to get a voting quorum, and an understanding was reached that the vote on the bill and amendments would begin at 4 o'clock to-day.

The senate joint resolution to continue the unexpended balance for the free delivery service of the postoffice department ($59,481) up to June 30, 1891, for pay for extra service of letter carriers, was reported and passed.

Committees in conference were appointed on the postoffice appropriation bill, and on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill. Senators Plumb, Allison and Blackburn were appointed conferees on the first, and Senators Hale, Allison and Blackburn on the second.

The following bills were taken from the calendar and passed:

The senate bill to amend the laws relative to shipping commissioners.

The house bill for a public building at Paris, Tex., cost not to exceed $100,000.

The senate bill for the relief of certain officers on the retired list of the army—for their nomination and appointment to the rank to which they were severally entitled, at the time they were placed on the retired list.

The senate bill to aid the state of South Dakota to support a school of mines, (donating 50 per cent. of the money received from the sale of mineral lands—not to exceed $12,000 a year, nor to exceed the amount contributed by the state).

The house bill providing for the sale of navy yard and United States hospital lands in the city of Brooklyn, N. Y.

After a short executive session, the senate at 5:30 adjourned.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Five Men Killed and a Number Seriously Injured.

ASHLEY, Mich., June 27.—Gardiner's stove mill at North Star was wrecked yesterday afternoon by a boiler explosion. Four men were killed outright and a fifth injured so badly that he has since died, while a number of others were seriously hurt.

The list of killed is as follows: Fred. Tucker, Charles Brown, Hiram Goodwin, Fred. Costello, of Green Bay, Wis., and Frank Gardiner.

The injured are: J. Britton, injured internally and skull fractured; will probably die.

D. Britton, skull fractured, and will probably die.

William Erb, badly cut about the head.

J. Hull, broken arm and internally injured.

William Roddy.

Cassius Conklin.

James Brown.

The mill at once took fire and it was only by the greatest efforts that the bodies of the killed and wounded were taken from the wreck. The mill is a total wreck, everything being burned, including the stock and cars loaded with headings.

A BROTHER'S REVENGE.

A Kentucky Desperado Killed by a Boy, and a Feud Ended.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., June 27.—Harve Turner, leader of one faction in the Turner-Sowers feud, which has raged for years in eastern Kentucky, was killed Tuesday night by John Raines, a boy of 17. Turner was shot down as he entered a country grocery store on Yellow creek.

The first shot missed him, but as he turned with his rifle cocked, two bullets from a Winchester pierced his body. The trouble that led to the killing is supposed to be the murder of Raines' brother three years ago. Harve Turner being accused of waylaying and killing him.

Turner is an uncle of John Crook Turner, who was killed one mile west of here about ten days ago by his cousin, William Turner. The killing, it is thought, will end the feud that has existed between the Turner and other families for the last eight years.

A Paymaster Robbed.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 27.—At noon yesterday Paymaster Atkinson, of the Wynn coke works, was seated alone in the company's office counting the money to pay the company's employees.

Atkinson had just placed the money, $1,200, in envelopes, when suddenly a masked man covered him with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands. Atkinson ran out of the office and gave an alarm. The robber seized the money and fled. A party gave chase. The robber turned and fired several shots at his pursuers. The yard boss hit the thief with a stone, causing him to drop his hat and part of the money. He was recognized as Perry Donaldson, a former employe of the company. A sheriff's posse is in search of the thief. The Wynn works are owned by the H. C. Frick Coke company.

Two Boys Killed by a Train.

WHEELING, W. Va., June 27.—Yesterday a passenger train on the Ohio River railroad struck and instantly killed two boys named May, aged 5 and 7 years. The boys were sitting on the track on a high stone culvert near Gallipolis, O. They seemed perfectly oblivious to their danger. The engineer made a frantic effort to stop, but could not do so. The driving rod crushed their skulls, knocking them into the ravine below.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

GLEN FALLS, N. Y., June 27.—The passenger train to Lake George was wrecked at Glen lake, five miles north of here, yesterday. Three cars were thrown into the lake, including one passenger coach and one smoker. About seventy-five passengers were on the train. Nobody was injured.

In the Farm Hill Mine.

The Walls Have Been Penetrated,

BUT NO ONE HAS ENTERED.

Air Taken From the Mine and Examined But the Result Kept Secret—Fate of the Entombed Miners Will Soon Be Known.

DUNBAR, Pa., June 27.—The tension here is absolutely painful. The people are without hope of finding their friends and comrades alive but they are firm in the belief that before many hours the undertakers awaiting near by will have been placed in charge of the twenty-nine dead bodies.

The officers of the Dunbar Furnace company and the mine inspectors are now making every effort to avoid another disaster when the dividing wall is broken through. It is probable that Inspector Keighley will take charge at the supreme moment. He will have with him but one man. The other men on the shaft will be sent back a safe distance and remain until the air in the Hill Farm mine has been tested and pronounced safe for them to enter. There will be little delay after these precautions have been taken, and the work of rescue will be prompt.

At 2 o'clock this morning another shift of men was taken into the mines. Those who came out say they are within a few feet of the burning mine. They will soon be in the Hill Farm mine, but it will require at least three hours to test the air.

For two days men have been cutting a tunnel from the Ferguson mine to the Hill Farm mine from another direction than those at work in the Mahoning mine. Their intentions have been kept very quiet, as their plan was very dangerous. At 10 o'clock last night they reached within two feet of the Hill Farm mine and were stopped by the authorities. Testing machines were taken into the tunnel, a drill was forced through into the mine, a bag of air from the Hill Farm mine was taken out for testing. The hole was then plugged.

The result of the examinations of the gas taken from the Hill Farm mine was not made public. The work was stopped, however, and no further effort at rescue will be made from that direction. It is said on reliable authority no dangerous substances were in the air tested.

USED AS A COW STABLE.

The House in Which Christopher Columbus Once Lived.

NEW YORK, June 27.—While Chicago is getting ready for the world's fair in commemoration of 1492, and the Italians of New York have started a movement for the erection of a monument to Columbus, Spain seems to regard with peculiar indifference everything relating to the great Genoese navigator. Senor Jose Martinez, a wine merchant of Madrid, said to a New York Star reporter:

"The preparations for celebrating the discovery of America are exciting much more interest among the Italians than among the Spaniards. But few relics of Columbus are cherished in Spain. Even the old house in Valladolid in which the old navigator lived during the last years of his life, after his release from prison, is falling down from neglect. It is used as a cow stable."

"A large notice points it out to the stranger as the house of Columbus, and thousands visit it every year only to turn away in disgust at the avariciousness of the owner in putting the place to such a use, and the indifference of the Spanish government in allowing it. The Spanish papers are taking the matter up and protesting vigorously against further neglect as a disgrace to the government and to Spain. Unless something is done soon, the Italians promise to purchase the house through private subscriptions."

Train Wrecked.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 27.—The eastbound Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee fast train was wrecked in this city at Clancy street crossing at 10:40 Wednesday evening and Fireman Herbert Nesser was killed. An oak tie, sixteen feet long had been placed by an unknown person on the track, and the engine struck it while going at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The passengers were badly shaken up. The detectives say they have a clew to the perpetrators of the deed.

A Queer Hallucination.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., June 27.—Peter Bellis, aged 65, married, has reached the fifteenth day of his fast. He is laboring under the hallucination that his children are starving, and rather than see them die this way he gives them what provision is in the house and he goes without. Bellis is an old broken down back tax collector, has money, but was born eccentric. It is probable that he will get hungry soon.

Fatal Case of Sunstroke.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 27.—Peter Gaither, a wealthy and prominent farmer residing near this city, and John Hallam, one of his farm hands, died from the effects of sunstroke received at 10 o'clock this morning. John Ford, section foreman on the L. E. and St. L. railway, is prostrated and in a dangerous condition.

Thrown from a Buggy.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 27.—A special from Dadeville to The Advertiser says the daughter of the Rev. Mr. Brannan was killed and his wife fatally injured yesterday by being thrown from a buggy.

In Knott county, Ky., last Sunday, Alfred Draughn shot and killed John Hawthorne, his second cousin.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The Strike on the Illinois Central Still Unsettled—Other Strikes.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The conference between the officials of the Illinois Central railway and the strikers committee, lasted until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The final answer of the company was to the effect that they would not be justified in removing Mr. Russell from his position.

The committee of the strikers reported at once at their headquarters and yesterday evening a big meeting of strikers was held and nearly 400 were in attendance. The meeting was secret and its import and results could only be gleaned from the statements secured after its close. From the street frequent and hearty applause could be heard and it was evident that the report of the committee and the speeches made were approved. The matter of final settlement was left in abeyance, however, until to-day when a meeting will be held.

The strikers show no signs of weakening, and unless some compromise can be effected nothing can prevent the strike spreading.

Several committees from other roads waited on the Illinois Central strikers yesterday to assure them of hearty co-operation in case there should be any necessity of a general tie-up. One committee came from the Wabash road and complained that there was an "obnoxious" superintendent in the employ of that company that the men would probably take steps to have removed as soon as the Illinois Central strike was settled. Another committee came from the Cairo division of the Illinois Central, and the leader of it entered a complaint against Superintendent Hargitan, who, he said, was no better than Russell.

Trains Side-Track.

CAIRO, Ill., June 27.—A committee of the strikers came here yesterday, and on their orders every freight train between here and Centralia on the Illinois Central read was side-tracked. The passenger coaches were detached from two trains and local roads were notified not to handle Central cars going to other lines.

Strike Still on in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 27.—The East St. Louis freight handlers' strike is still on and bids fair to last for some time. This morning the Mobile and Ohio acceded to the demands for $1.50 per day, but refused to grant them extra money for overtime. The men went back to work. It is said that unless the strikers go to work to-morrow new men will be imported to fill their places.

Strike Given Up.

DENVER, June 27.—The mill and bench men have given up their strike and returned to work yesterday. Over 1,500 were out of work for two months.

Street Car Strike at Joliet, Ill.

JOLIET, Ill., June 27.—The street car drivers in this city all went out on a strike yesterday for more pay and shorter hours.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

Bishop Spalding Expresses Some Advance Ideas on the Subject.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., June 27.—The radical declarations of Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, speaking to the faculty and students of Notre Dame university on the position of women, has created a sensation here among Catholics. Last evening at the commencement of St. Mary's academy he went even further. After having complimented the work of the sisters of the congregation of the Holy Cross, he said that the position of woman had been the position that the southern planters gave their slaves. It was no better to-day than it was years ago. They were treated kindly—as the slaves of the men he knew had been treated—but kept in ignorance.

In this country, however, women had emancipated themselves. American women were more intelligent than American men. He demanded the highest education for woman, and declared she must henceforth work side by side with man for the prizes for which men work and win. The bishop's words seemed very like a statement of advanced belief in woman's rights. They were applauded again and again.

University Crews Racing.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 27.—The Cornell university crew won their race with the University of Pennsylvania crew yesterday by six lengths, over the three-mile course, in the fast time of fourteen minutes, thirty-three seconds. Philadelphia's time was fifteen minutes, two seconds.

A Quarrel Ends Fatally.

BOSTON, June 27.—Michael Haley, of Newton, was stabbed and killed yesterday by James Bostwick, a Russian, aged 55 years, who is under arrest. Bostwick is a cobbler at No. 16-1-2 Cross street, and the men quarreled over the cost of repairing a pair of shoes.

Fatally Burned.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 27.—At Obisonia last night Mrs. Adam H. Wise fainted while filling a lamp, dropping the oil can on a stove. She and a little son who was standing at her side were drenched with the burning oil and fatally burned.

Death of a Navy Officer.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Edmund S. De-
Luce, chief engineer of the United States navy, died yesterday at New Brighton, Staten Island, in the 62d year of his age. He was promoted to be chief engineer in 1861.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The North American Turner Bund held a special and final session yesterday afternoon to close up the unfinished business of the convention. Nothing of special note was transacted. The convention adjourning to meet in Washington, D. C.,
June, 1892.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1890.

It is predicted the present census will show Kentucky to be the sixth State in the Union, in population. The "old Commonwealth" is moving up to the front.

The recent census gives Owensboro a population of 9,500, and they were betting down there that it would go as high as 18,000. Of course a loud and long howl went up from that city.

HON. VAN B. YOUNG's friends write from Mt. Sterling to the Owensville Outlook that even second instructions by Bath County for any other candidate would mean Mr. Young's defeat.

THE "woods are full" of candidates for Congress up in the Tenth district. Hon. Rodney Haggard, Colonel Thomas Turner, C. R. Brooks and Thomas G. Stuart are mentioned, and some of them have already announced.

HEMINGWAY, ex-Treasurer of Mississippi, got away with some of the State's funds, and has been promptly convicted of the offense. Tate, ex-Treasurer of Kentucky, is an exile from his country to keep from answering a like charge. In Democratic States, officials who go wrong are not shielded from punishment as Rose Quay was in Pennsylvania.

THAT'S an old "scheme" the Republicans are trying to work against Mr. Robert C. Kirk, Democratic nominee for Jailer. Mr. Kirk has promptly denounced the report that is being used against him, as false in every particular. It behooves the Democrats to be on their guard at the approaching election and get out a full vote for every man on the ticket.

THE Louisville Times takes the right view of the matter. It says: "If the Hon. John D. White should become a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals it is to be hoped that he will make a vigorous and thorough canvass of the State. We know of no Republican orator in the whole country whose eloquence would be so effective as to drive a crowd of apathetic Democrats to the polls, even though they had to swim rivers and climb mountains to get there, as John D. White's. By all means, let the Hon. White enter the field."

HERE is another Republican paper calling a halt on its party on the pension business. "It is a bold thing," says the Buffalo Express (Rep.), "to tell the truth about pensions, and most men fear to be accused of unpatriotic or selfish motives in objecting to the supposed demands of old soldiers. But the Conference Pension Bill is not born of patriotism and justice, nor is it based upon principles of good government. The Republican party, it is urged, stands pledged to do justice to the soldier. Do pension appropriations of nearly $100,000,000 a year go for naught? Must $60,000,000 more be given to prove that the Republican party is the soldier's friend? That party has pledged itself to be just, and it has magnificently redeemed its pledge. When it becomes recklessly extravagant, it forgets its duty to the American people. A deficit of $60,000,000 can never be explained, excused, or extenuated. Right or wrong, it invites a disastrous rebuke at the polls."

A Card to the Public.

I am the last man in the world to "seek newspaper notoriety," but I know of no other way of reaching the general public except through the papers. There has been a report in circulation about me as a candidate for Jailer of Mason County, to the effect that I said, "I wanted no damned Irishman to vote for me." I am credibly informed my competitor, M. R. Gilmore, has given this report current circulation. In justice to myself I denounce said report as a wilful and malicious lie, whereever and by whomsoever made. Respectfully,

ROBERT C. KIRK.

Governor Buckner.

(Philadelphia Telegraph.)

Kentucky is unfortunate in having an empty treasury, but it is to be congratulated on the compensating advantage of possessing a plucky and public-spirited Executive. Finding the public finances short to the extent of $50,000, and the State likely to be discredited on the coming 1st of July, when semi-annual settlements are due, Governor Buckner advanced the funds to make good the deficiency. The honor of the State is saved, the creditors are spared possible inconvenience, and the Governor wins the gratitude of the entire bluegrass region. All the same, the Governors of impetuous States will hesitate before adopting the example as a precedent to be followed. It is highly honorable to the Governor, but it might be found inconvenient if established as a settled custom.

Examination of Teachers.

The examination of teachers for the public schools of Mason County will be held on Saturday, July 5,—Friday, the 4th, being a National holiday.

SPEAKING of the destruction of the bridge at the mouth of Fishing Gut, near Aberdeen, the Georgetown News-Democrat says: "Owing to its location, it never was a very substantial structure. The Commissioners have not yet made up their minds whether they will re-erect it or change the road through Dr. Moore's farm so as to come out at a point on the pike where it will not be necessary to erect another bridge."

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Hugh G. Bowles, at present joint freight and passenger agent here of the C. & O. and K. C. railways, has accepted a position as General Superintendent with another company, and will leave Maysville as soon as he can be relieved, probably by July 3rd. His successor had not been appointed at last accounts. Mr. Bowles has been in Maysville the past year or so, and has made a host of friends in a business and social way who will regret to see him leave.

THE remains of Dr. J. J. Kane were brought here to-day for interment. He died yesterday at Cincinnati, of meningitis. The Post says he was a physician of bright promise. He had been a citizen of Cincinnati three years, and was a professor in the Ohio Medical and Woman's Medical Colleges. Deceased was for eight years a surgeon in the U. S. army. He was raised at Flemingsburg, was thirty-seven years old and was a brother of Mother Agnes, Mother Superior of the Academy of Visitation, who died here a few years ago.

THE case of the Passenger and Belt Railroad Company against J. S. Keller, which attracted considerable attention a few months ago at Lexington, has at last been settled, and Mr. Keller comes out winner. The trouble was over a certificate of stock of which the company claimed Mr. Keller had wrongfully obtained possession. An effort was made to indict Mr. Keller, but the grand jury dismissed the case. The company then petitioned the court for possession of the certificate, but the petition was overruled. Mr. Keller married a Miss Calvert, of this county, and his friends will be glad to learn that the court ruled in his favor at every point in the above case.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says: "Wednesday evening Miss Ethelene Buckner, the charming daughter of Colonel John A. Buckner, of Louisiana, and Mr. H. G. Buckner, of Lexington, Ky., were married at Edgewood, near Covington, the beautiful country residence of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. M. Buckner. The Rev. Mr. Baker, of Covington, officiated. It was a quiet family affair. The bridesmaids were Miss Jennie Wise, of Covington, and Miss Ethel Wall, of Maysville. Among those present were Colonel John A. Buckner, Judge Wall and wife, of Maysville; Hon. Theodore Hallam and wife, Dr. J. H. Buckner, Mr. Will Buckner, Mr. Harry Buckner and many other relatives and friends."

"Absolutely Faultless."

The following from Mr. Ed. C. Orear, Supervisor of Census for this (the Fifth) district of Kentucky explains itself:

MT. STEELING, KY., June 25, 1890.
To Wm. R. McDonald, Esq., Census Enumerator, Maysville, Ky.—Dear Sir: Your completed schedules received at this office, and upon examination we find that they excel any return we have received, and we hardly think we shall have another that will compare with it. It is so absolutely faultless that I can not forbear congratulating you upon your admirable work, and I wish your compensation were more than it is. Thanking you for your system, neatness and dispatch, I am, yours, &c., ED. C. OREAR, Supervisor.

Gastronomic Morsels.

Pepperon strawberries is an old wrinkle of the epicures revived as a modern fad.

A physician rises to say that in summer it is best to eat a slice of ginger with ice cream.

People forget that it is powdered and not granulated sugar that should be put on berries.

There is such a thing as having spring chicken actually too young for palatable broiling.

Cold lamb and pickles and new boiled potatoes make a mid-day bite for the epicures.

MINER'S MAXIMS.

Men accept the reliable things of life,
Whether shoes or sunshine,
Without surprise;
They're mere matters of course.

Look at the sun, for example.

Does anyone in Maysville lie awake nights, wondering if the sun will rise to-morrow? Of course not. Nobody thinks anything about the sunrise; it's a matter of course. The sun has always risen; of course it will rise to-morrow.

It's a jump from sun to shoes, but we take it.

Does anybody lie awake wondering if Miner will sell good shoes to-morrow? Not a bit of it. Good shoes at Miner's are as sure as sunshine. They are matters of course. After all, it pays to be reliable. It's a tribute to the sun that nobody loses sleep from fear of its failure to rise. It's a tribute to Miner that people take it as a matter of course that they will find good shoes at a store that has been 58 YEARS SELLING GOOD SHOES.

A Mammoth Petition

Presented to the British House of Commons.

HALF A MILLION SIGNATURES.

It Favors the Licensing Bill Now Pending Before That Body—Three Ponderous Rolls of Paper Each Measuring Seven Feet in Diameter—Other News From Abroad.

LONDON, June 27.—The serious character of the proceedings in the house of commons was relieved yesterday evening by an episode which afforded general amusement. The monster petition in favor of the licensing bill, to which its originators, the publicans, had obtained 500,000 signatures, was carried to the palace of St. Stephen a few days ago and deposited in a corner in Westminster hall, pending its presentation to parliament.

Last night the three ponderous rolls of paper, each measuring seven feet in diameter which the petition comprises, were tumbled into the house with much difficulty and placed in the center aisle. They filled the aisle completely and it was impossible for members to see or hear anything across them. The Liberals kept up a constant stream of objections to acceptance of the petitions and for a time the howls, protests, peals of laughter and chaffing in which the members indulged bereft the house of all semblance to a deliberative body. Order was finally restored long enough to reach the result of ordering the removal of the petition and it was trundled back to its corner without being presented.

Lived Too Fast.

LONDON, June 27.—Much anxiety prevails in financial circles over the condition of affairs in the Argentine Republic, where the central government is somewhat embarrassed by too free extension of credit to railway and other corporations, and by the lavish borrowing and expenditure of money, some of the state governments being in even worse condition. It may interest the advocates of American commerce with South America to know that the country is represented as glutted with imported goods and stocked, as to most articles, for ten or twelve months ahead.

Gladstone Will Protest.

LONDON, June 27.—Mr. Gladstone will strongly oppose the cession of Heligoland to Germany when that matter comes up for discussion, and will be supported by Sir William Harcourt, Mr. Morley and other leading Liberals. In any event, Mr. Gladstone will contend, the island must not be fortified by Germany, and the inhabitants must be permanently exempted from military duty or service of any character whatsoever.

A large number of guests were present, including the leaders of all the political parties except the Socialists. Dr. Windthorst, the leader of the clerical party, had a long conversation with Herr Von Puttkamer. Maj. Wissmann was the lion of the evening.

The Captain's Responsibility.

LIVERPOOL, June 27.—The inquiry into the recent accident to the Anchor line steamship City of Rome, at Fastnet rock, was concluded yesterday. The judgment rendered is that the casualty was due to the failure of Capt. Young to attend to the warnings conveyed by the lead soundings. No action was taken with regard to the captain's sailing certificate.

She Was from Chicago.

QUEENSTOWN, June 27.—Eliza Hill, of Chicago, a passenger on the Giron steamship Arizona, from New York, was arrested here yesterday for concealing in her valise two packages of ammunition and a loaded seven-chambered revolver. After being taken before a magistrate she was remanded for further examination.

Seventy Houses Burned.

BERLIN, June 27.—At Oldenburg yesterday seventy houses were destroyed by fire.

Convicted of Embezzlement.

NEW ORLEANS, June 27.—Treasurer Hemingway, of Mississippi, was found guilty of embezzlement by the jury this morning. Counsel for defendant at once asked for time to file a motion in arrest of judgment, which was granted.

Building Damaged by Fire.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The machinery and buildings owned by Contractor Peterson, at shafts No. 25 and No. 26, of the new aqueduct, were damaged $15,000 by fire yesterday afternoon.

A RACE FOR A BRIDE.

Two Young Men's Lively Chase for the Hand of a Young Lady.

ANDERSON, Ind., June 27.—An affair attended with a tinge of romance occurred yesterday near Summitville, this county. It was nothing more or less than a chase for a bride.

About three weeks ago Miss Laura Williamson, a pretty 18-year-old miss residing at Indianapolis, was sent to the home of a relative in Van Buren, this county, by her parents to break off an objectionable engagement.

Miss Williamson had two suitors, who were very ardent in their attentions. They were Charles Ball and Jacob Feely, both foundrymen at Indianapolis. Ball found favor in the young lady's parents' eyes, and they aided him in prosecuting his suit for her heart and hand.

The young lady was obstinate and stubborn, and refused to accept Ball's proposal of matrimony. Yesterday it was secretly planned by Miss Williamson and suitor No. 2 (Neely) to meet and get married. Somehow Ball and Miss W.'s father got a hint of the proposed scheme, and the result was, when the train pulled into Summitville suitor No. 1 (Ball) and Williamson got off, as did also Neely.

However, the latter was not apprised of the others' presence until they all met at Summitville. Both rushed for the lively barn to secure rigs to go to the temporary country residence of their affianced. Neely got five minutes the start of his rival, but both arrived at their destination the same time.

The scene that followed can better be imagined than described, and came near resulting in a tragedy. Finally better judgment prevailed, and it was agreed by the rival lovers to submit their case to the young lady, and abide by her decision. She accepted Neely, and the wedding day has been fixed.

MOULDERS OF PUBLIC OPINION.

Second Day's Session of the National Editorial Association.

BOSTON, June 27.—The sessions of the National Editorial association were continued yesterday at the state house. Papers entitled "Down Below," which had reference to the counting-room, and "Newspaper-making for Profit" were read.

Chairman Parker, of Common Advertising, made a report of a schedule of uniform advertising rates, running per inch from seventy-five cents per week to $10 per year, per column from $10 per week to $100 per year.

Mr. Beatty, of Arkansas, from the committee appointed for purpose reported favorably upon the proposition for affiliation with the American Newspaper Publishing association for associate membership having agreed upon terms for all weekly papers connected with the National Editorial association of $5; for papers published oftener in towns of 10,000 population, $10; in towns of 10,000 and 15,000 population, $15. The report was accepted.

Killed With a Flatiron.

MANCHESTER, Vt., June 27.—Charles Seymour hit Charles Harding with a flatiron on the head several times yesterday. He also hit his wife and 5-year-old son with the flatiron. He then cut his own throat and stabbed himself in the abdomen. Seymour and Harding cannot live, and the others are in a critical condition.

Death of a Lieutenant Governor.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 27.—The Hon. Archibald Woodbury McLellan, lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia, died at the Government house yesterday at 10 o'clock from heart disease. He was appointed lieutenant governor in 1888, and previous to that time had held the position of postmaster general of the Dominion.
